

Message 03 - Change of Consciousness

We have spoken before about the coming change of consciousness. And you dear ones have committed yourself to being here and to experiencing this change of consciousness indeed you have chosen to participate in the change yourself so not only will you gain a consciousness and the experience on the new world of the new reality you'll help bring it in and we have spoken to you also that it is coming rather soon now finally at last we said the reality will be here what you have waited for will be here will arrive and many of you have already experienced tremendous changes in the past few months within your consciousness you have seen your awareness expand and grow and to your dismay you've also seen the challenges that come with that growth for every time you expand and become more and raise the bar then you give yourself a test. Now this test is designed to determine if you are really truly changed so it is not any surprise that every time that you make a significant personal change in your life there will follow a test we have also told many of you on occasion that that test does not mean that you have not made your change that you have not grown into a more expanded more powerful freer and bright individual we have suggested and we do suggest now do not take it personally despite the amazing coincidences that come with your quote unquote test that make it seem specific to you. Now what makes it specific is that the test at this time is pushing on the very core fear that you have in your life everyone of you have made adjustments to your life have grown up with issues challenges and have come out of them with certain strategies. Many of these strategies for lack of better strategies at the time entailed numbing out diminishing yourself hiding yourself ignoring the pain postponing it if you will and although over the past several years you've been diligently healing your pain clearing your issues very often remains that one piece that hooks you into an old fear based reality and that dear ones holds your core fear that what you fear more than anything else still vibrant down deep inside you and because you wish to be clear and because you have chosen to be a clear crystalline being ready to step out of a fear based reality and into a love based reality hopefully this year you're pushing on your core fear so please do not be dismayed when things seem to be tougher at times than ever build your courage you have so much claim it own it recognize it and armed with this courage go deep within and seek that root fear and face it when you can let that root fear go you are ready to lift out of a reality of tremendous restraint and restriction and to receive the sparkling seed of the new future of what we call the destiny future which ahs chosen and now is coming to fulfill your choice the peak intensity of this challenge may be now it may be up until June or July of this year do not despair dear ones if you face your core fear there's nothing more to fear and when you are safe your feet are solidly on the pathway into the new future the new consciousness to home.
